

ERRATA

as of 6 September 2015

Chapter 6

The book incorrectly states that President Bush did not deliver his speech rolling out his new strategy [p. 192]. The plan was that the president's rollout speech would be followed by a press conference by Defense Secretary Cheney and JCS Chairman Powell. Having already been delayed, the president delivered his speech at the Aspin Institute in Colorado on 2 August but the press conference was cancelled. According to the Joint Staff history [pdf p. 37], "Thus the [Persian Gulf] crisis further delayed a full-scale campaign to marshal public support for the new strategy and the forces needed to execute that strategy."